

HIGHLIGHTING AND CONTOURING

1. Highlighting

Using a foundation 2 shades lighter than your skin tone and starting with a small amount of product, apply with clean fingers to:

- The top of the cheek bones and your under-eye area
- The bridge (top) of your nose
- The inside and outside corners of your eyes to immediately brighten them
- Laugh lines to smooth your face
- In between your eyebrows where it might furrow

Blend gently with a damp sponge, a foundation brush, or by lightly tapping your fingers on the area. Set with powder and move on to contouring.

2. Contouring

For best results and easiest application, use a small angled cosmetic brush with natural bristles for the more intricate area around your nose, and a larger angled brush for the rest of your face. If you don't have a brush that is trimmed on an angle, use the tip of your favorite blush brush. Apply a low or no-shimmer bronzer:

- In a soft, C-shaped motion, under your cheek bones to strengthen your bone structure
- On each side of your nose to make it look more slim and refined
- To the tip of your nose in a V-shape to shorten it
- Under your jaw line to add definition
- One inch above your temples to add depth to your face
- Around your hairline to warm your skin
